

SUGGESTED BUDGET FOR CITY OF CAMPBELL IS SUBMITTED

The following report, a suggested budget for the City of Campbell was submitted by the taxation and revenue committee of the Committee for Campbell Incorporation by Leslie Kerr. Kerr was formerly associated with the government in the capacity of auditor for a period of thirty years and has gathered considerable experience in compiling reports of this nature.

At the very beginning, let it be distinctly understood that: (1) This budgetary estimate is predicated on a newly incorporated area; (2) There is no previous criterion of city operation, and therefore no data is available from which to base a logical opinion as to actual needs or what the resulting cost would or should be; and, (3) This appraisal is not intended as an attempt to handicap or tie the hands of the incoming City Council.

Furthermore, the author does not expect every proposal made herein to be completely acceptable to everyone, more especially those who expect to profit or desire to become a city employee.

The income expected to become available during the first year of city operation is estimated at a maximum of $100,000 or an equivalent of $10.00 per unit of city population. Therefore, if the anticipated 10,000 population does not materialize at time of actual incorporation, it will be necessary to reduce the estimate of income to take care of the population deficiency, by use of the same ratio of $10.00 per person.

Manifestly, it is not safe or appropriate to project a budget solely on the total of an assumed income. Neither is it a sound business practice to provide for expenditures that will absorb all available monies. On which account, the proposed expenses are limited to a maximum of $60,000, or 60% of the probable income.

The writer is not wedded to these proposals in their entirety, but is amenable to constructive criticism to the end that something better can be adopted.

In proposing modifications to the proposals contained herein, the proposer must keep in mind two essentials, namely: (1) Property-tax revenues will not be available for ten months or longer; and, (2) it may be quite difficult to secure working funds from lending agencies under all circumstances.

Estimated expenditures of City of Campbell classified according to governmental functions during first year of city operation:

The eight cities listed by following tabulation were incorporated during 1946-1949 and the expenditures indicated cover total payments for cost of government during first year of operation as a city.

These cities were operated without benefit of property-tax income. And, in addition, the available income was greater than the outlays to the extent of surpluses amounting to:

PROPOSED CITY BOUNDARIES CUT; CAMBRIAN AREA IS ELIMINATED

CAMPBELL HARVEST FESTIVAL IS PLANNED FOR SEPTEMBER 28-29

Plans were formulated at a recent meeting of the committee for Campbell Incorporation for a Fall Harvest Festival. The festival, under the chairmanship of Judge A. J. Emery, is being fostered to obtain funds to insure the cost of the incorporation election. By law, the committee must post funds to cover the cost of the election.

The committee has set $1500 as a goal. Fifty percent of the net profits from the festival will be used to attain this goal with the remaining 50 percent going to the organizations participating. Any funds in excess of the $1500 will be prorated back to those individuals who have made donations to the drive.

Plans have been laid to ask the cooperation of service clubs, civic organizations, churches and merchants. While the merchants will not be asked to enter booths at the festival, they are now being polled as to the advisability of holding special sales during the festival period.

Chairman Emery stated that the possibilities for the good of the community through the festival are unlimited. "We hope to make this an annual event. Funds in future years could be used to further youth organizations and provide better facilities for the youth of the community. The possibilities for the increase of business during the festival are also unlimited. Properly handled, we could expect an attendance of up to 25,000 persons."

Present plans call for booths, street dancing, prizes and refreshments for the two day event.

Lions Hear Rev. James Strayer Speak Tuesday

Rev. Jim Strayer, pastor of San Jose Calvary Methodist Church, told members of the Campbell Lion's Club Tuesday night of the value which members receive through their Lion's Club membership. "While the Lions are dedicated to community service and give much of their time and effort to that end, they also receive a great satisfaction and joy in return for the giving."

Rev. Strayer, punctuating his talk with bits of the typical Strayer humor, deplored the present day tendency for gathering together in cliques and specialized groups.

"Service clubs, such as Lions, cut a wide swath in this practice," he said. "Through the close association of service clubs, members come to know each other as human beings and individuals rather than members of a particular profession." Strayer stated that the tendency to form special groups has been responsible for much of our government's troubles. "To many special interest groups are interested only in what they can get out of the government rather than what they can contribute in the way of more efficient and honest administration."

Chairman Of Incorporation Group Tells Why He's In Favor Of Move

In an interview with the Press this week, L. W. Harmon, general chairman of the committee for Campbell incorporation, stated his reasons, for favoring the incorporation of the Campbell area.

Harmon is a native of Marshfield, Mo., where he spent part of his childhood. With his parents, Harmon moved to Kansas where he attended public schools at Cherryvale, and after graduation became influential in church and civic circles. In this capacity, he served as secretary to the Kansas League of Municipalities and gained extensive experience in compiling reports on various cities throughout the state.

Harmon later moved to Texas where he became interested in the oil business. He was president of Byrd-Harmon Drilling Company, a Texas corporation, as well as being superintendent of one of the large independent oil concerns of Texas. He is married to the former

Cut Made After Survey Of Cambrian District By Boundary Committee

A proposal to exclude approximately one-third of the area from the incorporated city of Campbell was approved by members of the boundary committee this week. The area excluded, which consists primarily of the Cambrian district, would cut the estimated population of the city from 10,000 to slightly more than 7,000. Assessed valuation would be reduced from 6 1/2 million to approximately 5 million. Members of the boundary committee signified their unanimous approval of the

September 22 Is Planned As Date Service Drive

The Campbell Community Service Fund Drive members will start soliciting for their $14,000 goal in the business district of Campbell on or about September 22. Solicitation of residential districts will start approximately one week later.

The drive will open following a kick-off breakfast held the morning of the opening day. George Kemp has been named publicity chairman of the drive.

Funds collected from the annual drive are used for the betterment of local youth organizations and other worthy local groups.

Eugene Barnes, chairman of the drive, issued a call for residents of the Campbell area to make their contributions locally rather than at their place of employment should it happen to be in another town. "I ask every Campbell resident who is contemplating making a contribution in another area to give the move very serious consideration. Contributions made in Campbell go directly for the benefit of Campbell youth and not for some neighboring cities benefit."

tion of what I have said previously before groups in the area) any particular area within the present proposed boundaries in which the majority opinion is definitely against incorporation with Campbell proper, should be cut out of the proposed boundaries voluntarily.

Cambrian, for instance: In my opinion, it is very evident that the majority is heavily against inclusion with Campbell; if so, it is wrong in principle to seem to try to force them in, besides (again, in one man's opinion) being poor judgment from a practical viewpoint.

Suppose the area to be incorporated is finally reduced to little more than the present lighting district: that still includes all the Campbell Fire District and all the old Campbell sanitary district, and is a large area compared to dozens of incorporated cities in California. Based on surveys of Mr. Don Reinhold, the civil engineer responsible, it would still represent approximately 5,000,000.00 assessed valuation and from 7,000 to 8,000 population. There are 304 incorporated cities in California. 179 will be smaller than Campbell in point of assessed valuation; 190 will be smaller than Campbell in point of population, assuming that our estimate of 8,000 persons within the final district is correct. That is not a small town after all. And it would be very practical, in fact much more practical from a standpoint of expenses for services rendered.

It should be pointed out that, to date, not one cent has been spent except by individuals, out of their own pockets, such as Mr. Kerr in his travels over the state, and for a few minor supplies. Mr. Barnes of the Press is underwriting ALL LEGAL PUBLICATION necessary, to an amount of $500.00. No attorney is being paid. No en-move with the exception of two members, Ollie Jensen and Joe Gomes, who were not available at the time. Members voting on the proposal included: Art Mayo, Don Reinhold, Herbert Shadle, E. A. Garrison, Gilbert Krug, Mrs. Ted Solari and Russ Kennedy.

A spokesman for the boundary committee stated that the move was made after a comprehensive and complete survey which showed that the Cambrian district was not ready for incorporation at this time. "We have eliminated an area which, from a municipal standpoint, would be extremely expensive to service and would give the city comparatively little in tax return."

According to figures compiled from the state controllers office, the new boundaries would place the city of Campbell, from a population and assessed valuation standpoint, at better than the half-way point. Of the 304 incorporated cities in California, 179 would still have a smaller population and assessed valuation than the proposed city of Campbell.

The new move in the incorporation drive would call for the re-submission of the boundaries to the county boundary commission for that group's approval. The commission had previously approved the original boundaries several weeks ago.

At a meeting of the Cambrian Men's Club Tuesday night, R. S. Kaiser, chairman of a committee to gather signatures asking the board of supervisors for the exclusion of that district, stated that his group had approximately 400 signers to the petitions. Petitions were collected at the meeting and plans were made to submit them to the board of supervisors along with a letter asking the exclusion of portions of the Cambrian district from the proposed city of Campbell.

L. W. Harmon, chairman of the general committee for Incorporation, stated that it has never been the intention of either the boundary committee or the general committee to force any area in which the majority of residents have shown disapproval to join in the move to incorporate the Campbell area. "It is for this reason that decision to exclude the Cambrian district from the proposed city of Campbell has been made."

Area which the boundary committee plans to exclude from the proposed incorporated city is bounded on the north by a line south of Apricot which roughly follows the limits of the Campbell lighting district to the Los Gatos Creek, southwest along the boundaries of the creek to a point south of Budd avenue, west from that point to a point northwest of Old Orchard Road, southeast to Waldo, easterly to a point east of Old Orchard Road, southeast along a line parallel to Old Orchard, westerly along a line south of and parallel to Sunnyvale, north along Kennedy avenue, east along Budd, north along a line approximately parallel to California and west along a line drawn parallel to and south of West Rincon to the original boundaries of the proposed city. The remainder of the boundaries remain the same on the west, north and east until they return to the new boundary drawn along a line south of Apricot avenue.

E. Clines Return From Vacation In Canadian Parks

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Cline, 269 Esther Avenue, have returned from a recent trip to Canada and the northwestern United States. The Clines, who spent 17 days on their trip, visited Lake Louise, Columbia ice fields and several government parks including the famous Kicking Horse Park.

During their trip they also visited the Takkawaw Falls, second highest in the world. The falls are located just below where the junction of two rivers forms a natural bridge. During their stay in Kicking Horse Park, they viewed the spiral Tunnels. The train tunnels have the unique feature of having the exit of each of the tunnels at a different elevation.

The couple stated that they were particularly impressed at the method by which the Canadian government manages their federal parks. Every time a new area is opened up to travel, the government issues a booklet containing pertinent information about the park including a rating of all the hotels along the route. They also stated that only one fishing license is required to fish in any of the government parks as opposed to the individual state licenses one must purchase to fish in the United States. "The Canadian government seems to be doing all that it can to encourage tourist trade," the couple were impressed by the beauty of the places they visited and the game which they saw. During their visit to the Columbia ice fields, they saw elk and moose.

While wages of Canadian workers are considerably lower than those of a worker in the U.S., prices in the northern country are almost the same as those here. "This situation is causing great hardship for the Canadians," the Clines recounted.

The Campbell couple remarked that the people of Canada seem to have a greater knowledge of the United States than the citizens of this country have about Canada.

Whitaker - Harris Ceremony Held In Methodist Church

Laura May Whitaker, daughter of Mrs. Ella Whitaker, 135 East Casey Road, and C. C. Whitaker of North Dakota, became the bride of James F. Harris recently in a ceremony performed by Rev. Edward Bowling in the Campbell Methodist Church.

The bride chose a gown of pink and white with a small collar on the high neckline and a wide sash at the waist. She wore a shoulder length veil and blue earrings and necklace. Cap sleeves were featured in the floor length gown. Her flowers were white carnations and an orchid.

Attending the bride, in a aqua blue formal and baby rose corsage, was Margaret Davis. John Ainsworth was best man and ushers were Paul Sartain and Gus Stewart.

Pastel flowers in baskets were placed in the sanctuary and flowers decorated the organ which was played by Virginia Rutherford.

Mrs. Whitaker wore a pink dress and Mrs. Harris, mother of the groom, wore a gray suit. Both of them wore white corsages of carnations and gardenias.

The bride was given away by George Green, her great-uncle.

Cupertino Nudges Los Gatos Kiwanis 3-2 To Take Second Half Championship

The Los Gatos Kiwanis saw their dreams of a league championship fade away before the determined play of the Cupertino Youth Club batmen as they went down to defeat, 3-2, at the hands of the YCers. With little to give and take on either side, the two league leaders remained tied at one all until three singles in the top of the fifth gave the YC's a one run lead.

Los Gatos bounced back in the bottom of the sixth stanza to knot the score again when Paolini blasted a double and was brought in on another double by Felix. The winning score came in the top of the seventh when Los Gatos pitcher Boggs handed Jones a pass and the Cupertino left fielder worked his way into pay-dirt.

Carrasco opened up the game for the Youth Club with a single in the first frame and scored on Griffin's two-sacker. Martinez fanned two men in the bottom of the first and Felix was caught trying to steal second for the third out.

A single by Rut and a bunt by Moraldo in the second failed to give the boys from Cupertino another score as Los Gatos pitcher Boggs fanned two men in a row for the end of the frame and the YC's scoring threat. Martinez gave up a costly triple in the bottom of the same stanza to see Stewart capitalize on his break for the first score for the Los Gatos.

The third frame saw both teams blanked with the only activity coming with a single by Cupertino catcher Griffin. Both teams maintained the same position in the next inning as close playing prevented either of them from scoring or drawing a safety.

Break for the Youth Club came in the top of the fifth when Carter singled. Another single by Montijo advanced the center-fielder to second and a single by A. Carmona brought him in for the second run for the Cupertinoans. The Kiwanis failed to catch the Youth Club in the bottom of the same frame as they went three up and three down.

Paolini blasted a double in the bottom of the sixth and was brought in by another two sacker by Felix for the tying run.

Jones took a pass in the last and worked his way to paydirt for the winning run for the Youth Club. Los Gatos found itself blanked in the last frame and saw their rivals take the league championship.

Both hurlers pitched tight ball with Los Gatan Boggs fanning six giving up nine safeties and one pass. Youth Clubber Martinez gave up five hits and three passes and fanned seven.

The win over Los Gatos clinched the league championship for the Cupertino batmen. Both teams had previously been tied for first with five wins and a loss. Cupertino also won top spot in the first half play and the play-off trophy.

Calados Sink Jr. Odd Fellows, 10-1

Calado pitcher J. Silveira pitched a no-hitter Monday night to sink the Jr. Odd Fellows by a 10-1 score. A costly pass prevented the hurler from chalking up a no-hit, no-run game when Gilpatrick took a base on an error and a pass pushed him along to put him in position for a strike at paydirt. The Calado hurler fanned ten batters and gave up only three passes during the entire contest.

First score for the Calados came in the first stanza when Diaz took a pass. Rodriguez singled and another pass and a series of errors sent the Calado over for a run. The Calados were held to a blank in the second, but three safeties gave them three runs in the third. Diaz started the fourth out with a home run and was followed by four more hits for five tallies.

The Odd Fellows took their only tally of the game in the fourth when Gilpatrick took a base on an error and worked his way to paydirt.

The last inning saw the Calados bring in one more score as a single by Stuhlman brought in G. Silveira.

CAMPBELL HARDWARE UPSETS LOS GATOS TO COP SECOND PLACE

The Campbell Hardwaremen pulled the upset of the season with an unexpected defeat of the Los Gatos Kiwanis, 8-7, Tuesday night to cop the second place in the junior league. A last inning rally failed to stave off defeat for the much-favored Los Gatos team as a series of errors retired them before they could run their rally beyond four tallies. Hero of the game was right fielder Bianucci, whose four sacker with bases loaded in the top of the third gave the Hardwaremen a three run lead which the Kiwanis could not overcome.

Independents Top Chamber Team

A last inning rally failed to stave off defeat for the Jr. Chambermen as they were dumped by a tough Independent team on August 20, 8-6. With the Independents leading 7-3 at the end of the sixth, the Chambermen tried to rout their opponents with three safeties for three tallies in the top of the seventh, but found their efforts weren't quite enough as they were blanked for the remainder of the contest and gave up one more run to the Independents in the bottom of the same inning.

The Independents took an early lead in the first stanza when Peterson and Sisemore both scored. They held the Chambermen to a blank in the scoring columns until the top of the fourth while they went on to tally once in the second.

The top of the fourth frame saw the Chambermen score their first runs of the game as Golden, Wall and Harris all crossed paydirt for their team. With the score knotted up at three each, Rice and Aspesi both tallied to bring their team into a two-point lead.

The fifth stanza saw the Chambermen blanked again while the Independents blew the top when Sisemore walloped one out of the park and Rice crossed following a double by Kuykendall.

The next frame saw the boys from the Jr. Chamber held scoreless again while Pounds knocked one all the way to round the bases for another tally.

In the top of the last, the Chambermen pushed three final runs across but couldn't see their way clear to take the needed additional two runs. The Independents took an unearned score in the last when Sisemore saw paydirt after taking a base on a pass.

The locals scored two more on a safety in the top of the fourth and went on to blank their opponents. The fifth frame was a blank for both teams and the top of the sixth failed to give the locals any more tallies. Wilson walked for the Kiwanis in the bottom of the same stanza and a triple by Stewart brought him in for the third tally for the Los Gatos. Gregg singled in the top of the last stanza for the locals and an overthrow by Los Gatos catcher Paolini to third gave Gregg the chance to steal home for the last run for the locals.

With the Hardwaremen on the long end of an 8-3 score, Johnston singled and three errors, a walk, and another single by Paolini gave the Kiwanis four tallies. With one away, Wilson popped a fly out to Foglia and Felix fouled out to third to give the Campbell boys the second place in league play.

The Los Gatos, holding the favored second rung position in the second half of league play, and having lost only two contests before meeting the holders of the first half second place. The Hardwaremen had lost five and won two during the second half prior to meeting the highly vaunted Los Gatos. The win Tuesday night gives the Campbellmen a place with the league champion Cupertino Y.C. at the picnic barbecue to be held Sunday at Uvas Dam by league commissioner Junior Morgan.

Cambrian Blasts Campbell Grammar In Extra Inning Struggle Tuesday

A tough Cambrian Market came from behind to stop what looked like a Campbell Grammar school victory last August 21 with an 8-6 score. The Cambrians, trailing until the last of the seventh, finally managed to pull a tie following a homer by Gripenstraw. The top of the last inning saw the score all knotted up at six each with the Grammarians striving desperately to bring in one more tally. Heads up ball held them to a blank in the overtime period, while the Cambrians went on to score the winning runs on a blast by Larzelere which took him all the way and brought in Oliver for the two final tallies.

First break of the game came in the second when the Grammarians punched over two runs following a series of errors by the Cambrian batmen. The Cambrians tried a comeback in the bottom of the third but managed to push over only one of the needed tallies.

The top of the fourth saw the Campbellmen blast two safeties for another run to bring the total up to 3-1. Cambrian added two more to their hat in the bottom of the same frame when Larzelere and Cuttrel both tallied for the boys across the highway.

Four passes and two errors gave the Campbellmen three more in the top of the fifth and it looked like they were well on the way to a win as they blanked their opponents in the bottom of the same stanza.

The Campbellmen drew a blank in the sixth and the Cambrians retaliated with a homer by Gripenstraw to bring in two runs.

The seventh saw the Cambrians tie the game up at six each and hand a goose egg to the Campbellmen. The extra inning handed the Grammarians nothing and saw Larzelere blast one out of the park to bring in Oliver and himself for the winning scores.

L. C. Bernard Gives Talk At Rotary Meeting

Members of the Campbell Rotary Club heard L. C. Bernard of the University of California Extension Service tell them of a cross country trip which he had made two years ago at the Monday noon meeting of the club. Bernard highlighted his talk with pictures and color slides of the various types of agriculture and other scenes of interest which he had encountered on his trip. He also told them of agricultural practices in the different sections of the nation which caught his particular attention. He laid emphasis on the fact that it is possible in certain sections of the country to raise alfalfa and other crops without the aid of artificial irrigation. Interesting to local fruit growers were

W. V. HOSPITAL DISCUSSION SHEDS LIGHT ON PROPOSED BOND ISSUE

A second discussion of the pros and cons of the West Valley Hospital District was held in Saratoga last Friday night. The discussion took the form of a debate as both sides fired questions and answers back and forth during the evening.

Opponents were Dr. M. E. Pickworth and J. Bradley Clayton, while the proponents were Herbert Shadle and Dr. A. R. Ness. Moderator for the evening was Paul Crawford.

The town meeting, which drew some 40 or so residents was sponsored by the Saratoga Chamber of Commerce in order that the people might know more about the hospital before going to the polls on September 18 to decide the fate of the $750,000 bond issue.

Evidently the people's appetite was never satisfied for after the speakers ended the discussion, the audience clamored for more information.

Dr. John Cox, who was in the audience, appealed to Moderator Crawford to disperse with regular parliamentary procedure and let the architects enlighten the audience. Crawford, however, wouldn't give in, but said there should be another meeting in which the men could talk. Cox appealed to Jaynes Mayer, president of the Chamber, to adjourn the meeting and have the architects speak, but to no avail.

Mild voiced Dr. Ness was the first speaker to mount the podium and attempt to shed some light on the subject. Speaking sincerely Dr. Ness said the first and most important question is do we need a hospital. His answer to the question was yes.

"By 1953, the county will have a deficit of over 300 beds," said Dr. Ness. He based his figure on the Department of Health's estimate of 4 1/2 beds per 1000 population.

"The West Valley hospital will help relieve the shortage," he said, "and besides, we will have our own hospital which we will control."

"I believe the location is good because it is in the center of the population of the district, and there are good roads and a fine sewerage," Dr. Ness stated.

(The problem of location was brought out at a recent meeting here when several opponents thought it was fine for Los Gatos and Campbell, but inadequate for Saratoga residents.)

Dr. Ness pointed out that the patients receive good service in a hospital of this type because it is small. He told of interviewing several people in Redwood City about the Sequoia hospital there and said they were all enthusiastic about it. The Sequoia is equipped with 50 beds as will be the West Valley.

Dr. Ness added that the staff of a hospital of this type is not as large per patient as in a larger hospital. The staff here would only be one and one-half to one as compared to three and one-half to one in a 200-bed hospital.

Another argument brought out by Dr. Ness was that the district is composed of more young people now than it was six years ago when most of the residents were older and retired. (Dr. Ness came to this vicinity at that time.) Dr. Ness wound up his argument by saying that he was not a good speaker, but that he owed it to his patients to try to get the best for them.

Herbert Shadle, president of the board of directors of the hospital district, described the district to the audience and told the powers of the board as set down in the district by-laws.

Mr. Shadle also showed that location of the hospital was not favorable to any one place but rather it was the center of the population and a main trunk sewer line passes in front of the property. "Saratoga is just five minutes away over good roads," said Shadle.

Shadle pointed out that the figures for the hospital have been ok'd by the State department of health. "Don't let anyone try to tell you different," he added.

In summing up his argument, Shadle added, "The opposition to the hospital is political more than the matter of location and cost. The voters should take this into consideration when they go to the polls."

Dr. M. E. Pickworth, initial speaker for the opposition, raised the question as to whether the hospital will be needed as badly 18 months from now as it is at present. Dr. Pickworth didn't seem to think so, but wasn't clear as to why.

Dr. Pickworth's main objection is the amount of the bond issue. He doesn't think the amount is sufficient to build a satisfactory hospital with top notch equipment. "What kind of a building will we have after $100,000 goes to fixed equipment, $24,000 to $28,000 for X-ray department, instruments which will run up to $1200 a set and linens which are not included in the hospital supply list."

"A hospital must perform special services before it will be approved by the American College of Surgeons," said Dr. Pickworth. "And I have checked the list of approved hospitals and only those not approved cost below $25 per bed per day."

"I don't see why they (the board of directors) don't come out and say we are going to build a 100-bed hospital and float a bond issue for it. It is hard to figure how they can build a 100-bed hospital for the amount asked," said Dr. Pickworth.

Taking his turn on the speaker's stand, the other opponent, J. Bradley Clayton said, "Taxes are what count. There are ample facilities in the area to serve our ailing. The county hospital, which is in the district, has 495 beds with many openings all the time," said Clayton.

"This 'Jerkwater' hospital can't give any service," he added.

Clayton seemed to be anxiously worried about the food getting cold while it was being wheeled to patients through the wings. His remarks and gestures about taking food past 50 patients brought comic relief to the evening's discussion. Later asked by a member of the audience if he ever heard of electrically heated carts, he said, "Yes, but the food will still get cold."

Clayton demanded to see the plans and specifications of the proposed hospital, saying that all there is now is a pretty picture. "I don't want to buy a pig in a poke, gentlemen."

The question period that followed the discussion failed to bring any further information to light although it did produce a few laughs.

Local Resident Returns From Teaching Position In Munich

Eleanor McConnell, 40 Carlyn Avenue, recently returned from a tour of teaching in the American Dependents' school in Munich, Germany. The school, established for the purpose of teaching children of members of the American Air Force and employees of the U. S. State Department, has an enrollment of approximately 1000 children. Children of American employees of companies doing business in the area may also enroll in the school on payment of a small fee.

Miss McConnell stated that the German standards of living in the American zone are much lower compared to standards in America. While the people of the area are not subjected to rationing to any great degree, the high price of consumer goods and the low wages places a voluntary type of rationing on them. "The people seem to take great joy in the small things which Americans take for granted. One Christmas, the children from one of my classes visited a class in one of the German schools. We brought them gifts of writing tablets and crayons. These children seem overjoyed at such a gift while we, of course, thought nothing of having such supplies."

The Campbell resident remarked on the remarkable psychological rehabilitation which the people of the western zone had made. "Despite the tremendous ruin which the war has brought to their homes and businesses, the people seem to have a remarkably healthy frame of mind."

While the fear of war is always present with the population of the zone and the men and families of the occupation forces, Miss McConnell said that the thought of probability of war came in cycles. "We noticed a general tenseness among the populace last fall which continued until the middle of January. Just before I left, another cycle of tenseness seemed to be starting."

The physical damage to the country was extremely heavy. "Block after block of devastated areas were visible throughout areas of all the cities. To an American visiting England, the war damage seems great, but the damage in Germany dwarfs that of any other country."

The people of the American zone seem to be in good health. Food is plentiful, but very expensive to the average German. Rationing as such does not affect the people, but the high prices restrict the purchase of such goods. The clothes of the people are often obviously old and patched but seem to be well cared for and clean.

The Germans seem to consider the Americans the lesser of two evils. They recognize that the presence of American forces is the only thing which stops engulfment by the Russians, but beyond that, they seem to resent their presence. "While we heard nothing openly against us while we were in Munich, there seemed to be a definite undercurrent of anti-Americanism."

Members of the teaching staff found their movements in certain areas were considerably restricted by the appearance of Russians. "If we wished to visit Vienna, we had to get special passes which showed complete information about ourselves. We boarded a special closed train which travelled only at night to cross Russian held sections. During the trip, we were constantly under the surveillance of American military police and our passes were checked several times during the trip. During the whole journey, we saw no Russians or Russian held territory." They also found considerable difficulty in taking pictures in any of the cities which were jointly held by the allies and the Russians. Anyone contemplating taking a picture had to be extremely careful not to include any Russians or scenes which might be considered of military importance.

During her tour of teaching in Munich, the Campbell resident had the opportunity to visit many of the countries of Europe and the near East. Trips included visits to Rome, Naples, Venice, Capri, Cairo, Athens and Jerusalem.

While in Italy, she visited Rome and was granted an audience with the Pope. She also visited the ruins of Pompeii and commented on the conveniences which the people at that time had. "We think of hot and cold running water and inside baths as a modern convenience, but I found that these luxuries were not unknown to the inhabitants of ancient Pompeii."

A group also journeyed to Capri and Venice. Miss McConnell reported ed that parts of Capri had become commercialized and most of the island was dirty and dusty. "We were a little disappointed in Capri, but found the Blue Grotto was beautiful. The grotto is a cave which must be entered by a row boat and the ceiling at the entrance is so low that we had to lay down in the boat to pass thru. Once inside, we found the water took on a lovely blue satin-like texture caused by the lighting from below."

The tour included a trip to Egypt and Cairo. While in Cairo members of the tour rode camels out to the pyramid of Giza and the Sphinx. "We found the people of Cairo were divided into two distinct classes; the very rich and the very poor. The modernness of the city was amazing, but it was contrasted with the dirt and disease and poverty of bazaars."

Armed guards accompanied groups of tourists on visits to famous Biblical sites in Jerusalem. Most of the trip in Jerusalem was colored with the constant tension between the Jews and Arabs. The city of Jerusalem was divided by the treaty which formed Israel and bands of Arabs who had been deposed when the Jewish government took over its section of the city, were camped on the plains outside. "We found Jerusalem constantly in a state which approached near war. It gave us a weird feeling to visit Biblical and historical points of interest in police cars and under constant protection of armed guards. We also had to be extremely careful of the use of our cameras, because we were allowed to take pictures only of Biblical points of interest. If our cameras ever wandered from the site of a particular point, we were severely reprimanded by the guards."

The Campbell girl also visited Bethlehem and found that the common conception of the Nativity scene is much distorted. "We expected to find a wooden stable and manger but found a cave instead. The reason for this, of course, is the lack of wood in the land. Most of the early buildings were built with existing materials such as stone and clay. Every advantage of the natural terrain was utilized so, of course, using a cave under an inn as a stable was very common."

On their return trip, the group spent a short time in Athens and visited the Acropolis and the ruins of the Parthenon. They found that prices in Athens were exceptionally high and compared them to existing prices in New York City.

The group also spent several days in Venice, and took many trips in gondolas on the famous canals of that city. One of the most famous sights which the Campbell resident saw in Venice was the Cathedral of St. Mark.

(EDITORS NOTE: This is the first of two articles dealing with Eleanor McConnell's stay in Europe. Another story telling of additional trips by the Campbell teacher will be published next week.)

Head Of Rabbit Breeder's Ass'n. Will Retire

H. John Harder, who has held the office of president of the Federation of American Rabbit Breeders since 1946, will not seek reelection on expiration of his term of office in the next few weeks. He has announced that he has severed all connections with the rabbit industry and will accept a position with a publishing firm. He expects also to retain his interests in the real estate business.

This will probably mean that the executive offices of this national federation of rabbit breeders will move to another city, as the nominees for this office reside in Idaho, Oregon and Los Angeles. Harder reports that he was a charter member of this organization when formed in Portland, Oregon, in 1932.

The reported program of the Federation of American Rabbit Breeders is that of an advertising agency for the industry.

Calados Edge By Battling Hardware

The Calados came from behind in the fourth to trip a battling Campbell Hardware, 5-3, August 15. The local Hardwaremen took a one-run lead in the bottom of the second when Barton blasted a homer and Oldham followed him after taking one on a walk. The Hardwaremen held their one-point lead until the top of the fourth stanza when a pass gave J. Silveira a base. Blaylock followed him with a base on an error and Rodriguez walked to load the sacks. Homen socked a double to bring in his three teammates and scored himself on G. Silveira's single.

The Calados took an early lead when Diaz crossed the plate in the top of the first. The Hardwaremen were blanked in the bottom of the first, but managed to bring in two tallies in the bottom of the second to take a two point lead which they held until the top of the fourth.

Following a four-run rally by the Calados in the top of the fourth, the Hardwaremen tried to rally with two hits for one tally, but fell short of the additional two runs needed. Barton tried to even it up in the bottom of the sixth but his teammates failed to take advantage of his single.

Calados Dump Los Gatos Batmen, 7-6

The Calados dumped a tough Davenport team, 7-6 on the local diamond last Wednesday night. On the short end of a 4-3 score, the Calados evened it up in the bottom of the fifth when Diaz took a base following second baseman Tomsak's bobble of his hit. He stole second and saw pay dirt when right fielder Wilson muffed a try for a fast one by J. Silveira.

The Davenportis went ahead in the top of the sixth when J. Johnson blasted what looked like a triple but managed to stretch it all the way following an error by the Calados. Johnson's run brought Logan in to give the boys from Los Gatos a two tally lead. The Calados went all out in the bottom of the same frame to take three tallies on three safeties. The last frame saw both teams blanked.

The Calados started out strong with a home run by Valdestri and Mayse which brought in a total of three runs. The Davenport batmen couldn't get across the plate until the third frame when a walk by Tomsack gave them a tally.

They continued to trail until the top of the next frame when two hits gave them three runs.

They were blanked in the fifth while their opponents went on to bring in a tying run on a series of errors. The sixth stanza saw the Los Gatos slip across two tallies, but the Calados bounced back in the bottom of the same frame to blast three safeties for as many tallies and take the lead in the contest. Neither team was able to punch across another run and the contest ended with the Calados on the sweet end of a 7-6 score.

HOW MUCH will the Proposed West Valley Hospital Cost?

HERE ARE THE FACTS:

The Trustees of the West Valley Hospital District are asking YOU, the taxpayers of the district, to bond yourselves for $750,000, which they claim will build and equip a 50-bed (28,000 square foot) general hospital at Vasona Junction between Campbell and Los Gatos.

The cost of building and equipping a general hospital today runs between $18,000 and $22,000 a bed. In fact, the new 250 bed O'Connor Hospital now under way, and with firm bid in hand, is costing $24,000 per bed. Using the lowest average figure of $18,000 per bed, the new West Valley Hospital will cost a minimum of $900,000 . . . or $150,000 more than the total bond issue. If the bonds are voted, and firm bids on construction and equipment exceed the $750,000 . . . as they most certainly will . . . WILL THERE BE ANOTHER BOND ELECTION? . . . to complete the job?

More About Incorporation

gineer is being paid. STATE LAW REQUIRES that an amount of money in cash sufficient to defray the actual election expenses must be deposited with the County, with the petitions. Excess of voluntary subscription funds, if any, will be returned to the subscribers, pro-rata.

Based on intensive surveys of the financial structure of comparable California cities made by Leslie Kerr, who is a retired Federal auditor of 30 year experience, which are being published weekly in The Campbell Press, it will be completely practical to run a competent city government with NO city property tax, which means with no additional tax—and that is based on a budget covering adequate police protection (including equipment), fire protection, (which actually is provided for under our present tax structure), street work, building inspection, City Clerk, City Treasurer, and all necessary public services.

These surveys show the source of the income that the city can expect, if an average of comparable city incomes from subventions: i.e., motor vehicle tax, gasoline tax, liquor tax, court fines, etc., can be used as a criterion. We do not need a large police force—we have no great crime problem; but we do need regulation, and we need enough to extend that regulation to the so-called 'quiet residential streets'. Only a few days ago, two small children missed death by inches, missed only because the driver happened not to be one of those who habitually turn the same corner on two wheels.

We hear occasionally that the incorporation movement is only a small clique of persons who wish to 'run Campbell.' Perish the thought. So far as I, personally, know, and I believe I can state it as a fact—not one person active in the movement has the least idea of 'running for office.' They are giving of their time, and money, unselfishly and without pay, because they sincerely believe that it is for the best interests of ALL the citizens of Campbell. It is not a 'Small Clique.' The General Committee is composed of some fifty representative citizens from all walks of life, whose names have all been published.

At a hurriedly called meeting of the petition committee a few evenings ago, Mrs. Ona Chubb, chairman, had 27 persons present, 80 percent of whom were NOT members of any committee. Dozens more representative citizens could be named who are not members, but who are actively supporting the movement. Actually the citizens of Campbell will elect by their votes the five men or women who will 'run Campbell,' and I have enough faith in my fellow citizens to believe that five such men or women, yes, fifty, if necessary, can be found who will run the city government just as practically as they now run their business, ranch or home.

We know that to some the program has seemed to lag, but it has only seemed to: a terrific amount of preliminary work has been done in the past weeks by Don Reineck, Judge Emery, Leslie Kerr, Mrs. Ona Chubb, Eugene Barnes, Viola Krug, and the members of all the committees.

IT CAN BE DONE. It depends only on whether we want badly enough our own home rule, operation of our own municipal affairs, locally tailored law enforcement, a just share of state and county money for local use and improvement, local zoning, our own Campbell identity, our special municipal affairs, administered by our own friends and neighbors, whose interests are identical with ours, who will be looking with a keen and critical eye at all expenses, especially those which might be considered unnecessary, because the money for those expenses comes out of their pockets just as it does from ours.

True, we may be able to 'get by' for another year possibly two, maybe even three, before state law slaps more taxes on us for supposed or actual municipal services, or some nearby city moves in and takes one or more of our schools or annexes the contiguous territory to our very doorsteps. It should be mentioned here that even if the legal maximum of $1.00 per $100.00 of assessed valuation were added as a real property tax, OUR tax rate would STILL be almost $1.00 UNDER (less than) San Jose's recently published tax rate.

Why wait until the opportunity to maintain our present and natural boundaries is forever lost? Each year that passes increases the difficulty due to new overlapping district boundaries, bond issues, and tax structures.

Sure, there are 'horrible examples' of city mismanagement which can and will be cited. There are horrible examples of human nature in every penitentiary—but they are a very small minority in each case. We can use them as GOOD examples of what not to do. We have had too much close experience in local city government, seen too many fine examples of well managed small and medium sized cities, not to know that it can be done and if that is the way we want it and will all pull together for it.

True, many of our citizens came to the Campbell area because they wished to be in at least a semi-rural area, but the growth that is taking place before our eyes is so inevitable and so fast, that in population density we are and will be a city, like it or not, incorporated or not, regulated and growing as we PLAN IT or not.

To us it seems the choice between an area growing helter-skelter without planning, without regulation, and a city of our own planning, governed by our own citizens, is elemental, from any viewpoint. It is our sincere belief that we can, if we wish and will work for it, have a city of which we can be proud—a city of fine churches, fine schools, smart shops, progressive businesses, good homes, quiet residential areas, with a tax rate of which we can brag in this day of high taxes. But we will have to work for it and once incorporated, we will have to establish a budget of not to exceed 80 percent of actual income and STAY WITHIN IT. In short, a city which will draw more citizens and more businesses; a city where good people will want to work and make their home. Sounds visionary? We have seen dozens of such small cities. IF WE CAN DO THAT, WE WILL HAVE A CITY TO WHICH CONTIGUOUS AREAS WILL BE WANTING TO ANNEX within a short time. If we can do that, we will have a city of which all of us, every citizen who votes for incorporation, can be proud of having helped to create—proud to pass on to those who follow us—proud to have it take its place among the beautiful cities of the finest State in our Union.

ANTHONY EDEN, British statesman, in S. F. — "The world situation will change for the better only if we prepare for the worst."

S. F. Art Festival Entry Blanks To County Artists

Entry blanks for the Fifth Annual Art Festival are being mailed to all professional and amateur artists, who exhibited in last year's very successful, nationally recognized Festival.

The Annual San Francisco Art Festival, is sponsored by the San Francisco Art Commission, for the City of San Francisco and all professional and amateur artists residing in the nine Bay Area counties are eligible to submit entries of their works.

Ceramists, painters in oil and other media, jewelers, metalcrafters, sculptors, weavers and those working in the graphic arts field, living in Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Sonoma and Solano counties, who do not receive entry blanks in the next few days, may secure one by writing to the San Francisco Art Festival office, 2753 Lombard Street, San Francisco.

This year's Art Festival, will be held at the Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco, October 16th to 21st, inclusive. The breadth and nature of exhibits, indicates that this Festival, already distinctive in scope and quality, will eclipse those of prior years.

In a statement issued today, Mr. Martin Snider, director of the San Francisco Art Festival, urged all entrants to return completed entry blanks as soon as received, due to the large number of entries which must be processed for exhibition.
